Q4

To reach our collective potential, we must work together to build up Ottawa. That requires a council in which each member commits to city wide leadership. What is your intended approach to collaboration with council, city staff and economic partners?

I hope to move the dial on the 15-8 vote splitting between urban and suburban/rural wards by either modifying the way the responsibilities are assigned on council or by engaging in more meaningful dialogue with my peers to reach consensus that favours the city as a whole on certain key files.

What key characteristics and skills do you possess that make you a great leader and ambassador for the city of Ottawa, and the national capital region?

I am forthright, a good communicator and one who works to bring people together to solve problems.

Q6

What are your top three priorities for Ottawa's future?

The budget must be controlled and the use of business analysis tools need to be employed to understand the city and its place amongst its peers.

The LRT nut must be cracked. The system needs to work well in order for it to be the trusted resource it needs to be. This is essential in order to address the climate change challenge.

The issue of housing, affordable and otherwise needs to be addressed.

Q7

Yes, I would like to attend.
