Ward 19 - Orleans South-Navan

Q4

To reach our collective potential, we must work together to build up Ottawa. That requires a council in which each member commits to city wide leadership. What is your intended approach to collaboration with council, city staff and economic partners?

I strongly believe that having an open mind and seeing different perspectives is essential to strong leadership- which is exactly what I plan to do, even when city councillors disagree, I will always be open to hearing their reasoning and making informed decisions. My campaign slogan is "Together" and that is because collaboration is my deepest value. We are always stronger when we work together.

What key characteristics and skills do you possess that make you a great leader and ambassador for the city of Ottawa, and the national capital region?

I have been fortunate to work with many different councils boards, and governments. Being bilingual allows me to communicate and connect with more people, I have also been president of multiple organizations at the local, national, and international level and I have been lucky enough to understand and manage budgets, people, and network. I have dedicated my entire life to being a leader in my community, and I hope to bring those skills to city hall.

What are your top three priorities for Ottawa's future?

My top three priorities for our community are supporting our local economy, improving social equity, and protecting our environment. I want to support and promote our small businesses and local farmers and bring more employment and business opportunities to Orléans South Navan. I also want to support a shift to clean, renewable energy city-wide and encourage smart building practices. Above all else, I want to ensure that when we look to the future of our city, we appreciate and foster the growing diversity in our city and ensure that everyone feels seen and included.
