Q4

To reach our collective potential, we must work together to build up Ottawa. That requires a council in which each member commits to city wide leadership. What is your intended approach to collaboration with council, city staff and economic partners?

As your city councilor my approach to collaborate with council, city staff and economic partners is by participating in a way to achieve our goals and objectives in the most cost effective and innovative ways. I will build and sustain relationships with people at all organizational levels, in which we will need to listen to understand and value diverse perspectives. enhance skills development and open the way for local communities to share ideas and connect with each other.

What key characteristics and skills do you possess that make you a great leader and ambassador for the city of Ottawa, and the national capital region?

I pride myself with being able to communicate and connect with people effectively on different levels. I am transparent when it comes to shared decisions and very present in my interactions.

I am decisive, honest, trust worthy and will take accountability. As a leader I believe no great achievement can be accomplished alone, but requires the help of others where we empower each other in order to reach the full potential.

Q6

What are your top three priorities for Ottawa's future?

Improving OC transpo reliability, manage cost of living/affordable homes and fixing and maintain our roads.
